For the 5 essay questions below please type out your response.

1. What, specifically, has brought you to this interest of serving full-time with Pacific House of Mission; and what strengths, qualifications, giftings, knowledge, and/or experiences of yours do you feel would help advance this Mission?
2. From what you have been able to learn thus far of all that PHM does, which ministry activity do you personally think is the most important, and why?
3. Describe your lessons learned in positions of leadership over others; what do you find to be the most easy or natural aspect, and also the most challenging aspect, in influencing others?
4. Let's say someone approaches you--seeing you as a potential mentor-leader through PHM—with questions about your (or their) own journey with faith, church, salvation, or God. What specifically might you be able to share with them (share with us!); and how might your discussion be different if the situation changed between you speaking with a fellow adult, or a teenager, or a person of a different faith tradition?
5. How do you feel about Catholics and Protestants and perhaps people of other Christ-centered traditions working together? What is your willingness to attend other faith traditions' services/ Please share your enthusiasms-or-misgivings about these kinds of ministry settings.
6. Describe your experience with missionary-support fundraising, and describe your confidence, feelings, and/or commitment to work on this in the months leading up to joining our team.
